is just the time to test the wonderful, labor-saving,

Pyle's Pearline.

Because then the wash is largest, the work most oppressive, and the articles to be washed most delicate. PEARLINE is as harmless as pure castile soap. It does away with most of the rubbing-hence it does away with those portions of the washing which ruin both your health and your clothes, and relieves this hardest of women's work of most of its drudgery. PEARLINE is the latest improvement in the way of soap, and, until something better is discovered, it behooves every woman who has to do with washing or cleaning, to supply herself or her servants with this wonderful cleanser, which, although yet in its infancy, is used by millions of families. . Manufactured only by JAMES PYLE, New York.

ANTICIPATORY

Leaving the State Capitol, situated in the heart of the city and in one of the loveliest little parks in the land, there are many avenues and streets that lead out to the Exposition-Grounds. The most attractive of these is Broad street, on which the main Exposition building

At the extreme east end is the President and Executive Committee building. The main building is in the shape of an E. and has a straight front with three im-every convenience. There are several spacious galleries with cross-bridges, and six massive towers with lookouts. There are three groups of doors, three openings each, in the front of this structure. You enter one of the width reat care has been exerted to provide ture. You enter one of the middle group, which stands before a besutiful group, which stands before a beautiful grotto, where limpid water is seen gracefully threading itself among the rocks and falling into the lakelet below, while from among the rich ferns comes stealing through the draped moss the varieties of the property of the property

Turning to the right you walk down one of the long aisles, and here on every hand is seen the wonderful handiwork of ingenuity in what might be termed a miscedaneous class. The silk-weaving machine, woollen cloth-loom, pottery-making, merchants' displays of every conceivable description, all arranged to attract interest and edify, until now you net-work of belts and whirl of pulleys and wheels. Here the machine making nails. Yonder the ponderous shears. There the harvester and binder at work, with the electric machines, steam-en
